As a general rule, taking into consideration market conditions and environment surrounding real property markets and financial markets, MCO CR REIT shall make its investment in income-generating properties consisting primarily of commercial office buildings and shall manage its excess funds in such a way as to earn market interest income.

(2) Asset Management Plan

① Real Property Management Strategy

- a) MCO CR REIT shall mainly invest in income-generating properties such as commercial office buildings sold by a corporation which is in the course of corporation reorganization proceedings or intends to repay its debt obligations with the sales proceeds, and when it purchases such income-generating properties, MCO CR REIT shall endeavor to purchase undervalued real properties at a price lower than the replacement cost.

- b) If the purchased real property is old and deteriorated, MCO CR REIT shall try to increase rents, generate more cash inflows, and increase the value of the real property.
- c) Asset Manager of MCO CR REIT shall continuously examine the possibility of early disposal of the real property even before the end of MCO CR REIT's corporate life and make recommendations to MCO CR REIT where it believes such early disposal can produce significant premium returns for investors.
- d) MCO CR REIT shall seek to control costs whilst maintaining tenant satisfaction with the ultimate goal of maximizing the rate of return to the investors.
- e) MCO CR REIT shall endeavor to dispose of its real properties within the defined life span of the MCO CR REIT in a manner which maximizes the returns to the investors.
- f) MCO CR REIT shall assess the rate of return of real property on a quarterly basis.

② Management Strategy with respect to surplus cash

③ Management Strategy of Cash and Liquid Assets

- (a) MCO CR REIT shall maintain cash and liquid assets above certain level to ensure that it can meet its cash outflow needs.
- (b) For the distribution of dividends, MCO CR REIT shall maintain certain level of cash and liquid assets.

(3) Exit Strategy

A MCO CR REIT is structured with the features commonly associated with international REITS that focus on enhancing steady income to investors, maintaining a high quality portfolio and providing market liquidity for shareholders. The shares of MCO CR REIT has been listed on the Korea

Exchange from 8 January 2004.

- B The main attribute of the MCO CR REIT investment structure is the ability for investors to share in the capital gain potential of the Property and not be restricted by an exit price guarantee mechanism, which is common in other CR REITs, which leaves the investor exposed to default by the party providing the guarantee. Investors will be investing in listed securities with market value reflecting the income generating ability and capital growth potential of the Property.
- C MCO CR REIT believes that the key to ensuring that there is capital growth potential for the Property is to demonstrate to the market that the Property can generate a sustainable dividend yield.
- D Exit may take the form of:
  - (a) Third party sale of the Property at or before the end of the life of MCO CR REIT
  - (b) Consolidation with other CR-REIT
  - (c) Potential conversion of MCO CR REIT to an ordinary REIT
- E In addition, Macquarie believes that the creation of a listed CR-REIT with the features common to international REITs will encourage the market to duplicate the structure in future listed CR-REITs. The continued growth of the CR-REIT market that converges with international common practice would attract increasing investment interests from both international and domestic investors, which would in turn increase the liquidity of listed MCO CR REIT shares and enhance the exit options of shareholders.

except for national bonds, local or municipal bonds or such other securities whose acquisition in such amounts is permitted under the Enforcement Decree promulgated under the Real Estate Investment Company Act of Korea (the “Act”).

- (5) If securities owned and held by MCO CR REIT exceed the limitation as provided in Item 4 above, MCO CR REIT shall comply with the investment limitations under applicable rules and regulations within six (6) months of the date of such acquisition.
- (6) MCO CR REIT shall not engage in any transactions falling within the categories listed in Article 21 of the Act with the officers and their respective related persons, and any shareholder who owns and holds 10% or more of the shares in MCO CR REIT and its respective related persons, except for the following circumstances:
  - A General sale, competitive bidding or any similar transactions;
  - B Transactions (other than with the officers and employees of MCO CR REIT and their respective related persons) where MCO CR REIT rents its real property at a rate higher than the rate determined by the Board; or
  - C Unavoidable transactions as a result of merger, dissolution, split or split-merger.
- (7) MCO CR REIT and its related person shall not engage in the sale and purchase of real property or the trading of securities with Macquarie Property Advisors Korea Ltd., except in the following circumstances:
  - A If MCO CR REIT is forced to dispose of its securities (other than shares) because it temporarily faces difficulty in making payment of purchase price or repurchase price of shares due to substantial number of appraisal or repurchase claims;
  - B General sale, competitive bidding or any similar transaction;
  - C Transactions where MCO CR REIT rents its property at a rate higher than that determined by the Board; or
  - D Unavoidable transactions as a result of merger, dissolution, split or split-merger.
- (8) Limitations on borrowing

- A. A REITs Company may borrow monies or issue bonds in accordance with Article 33 of Presidential Decree of Real Estate Investment Company Act for the purpose of investing and managing its assets or repaying its existing indebtedness or redeeming its outstanding bonds.
- B The amount of such borrowings and bonds under (A) shall not exceed two hundred percent(200%) of the shareholders' equity of the REITs Company.

10. Investment Risk

An investment in the shares of MCO CR REIT involves a high degree of risk. Prospective investors should carefully consider the following risk factors in connection with an investment in such shares.

(1) MCO CR REIT may be unable to pay dividends at the expected rates

MCO CR REIT's expected dividend rates are based on a number of assumptions, including assumptions relating to future operations of MCO CR REIT. These assumptions concern, among other matters, continued property occupancy and creditworthiness of tenants, the amount of future capital expenditures and expenses relating to MCO CR REIT's property, the level of leasing activity and future rental rates, the strength of the office real estate market in Seoul, competition, the costs of compliance with environmental and other laws and the amount of uninsured losses. A number of the assumptions relate to matters that are beyond the control of MCO CR REIT and The Manager or are not capable of being foreseen or accurately predicted. Accordingly, no assurance can be given that MCO CR REIT will be able to pay dividends at the expected rates.

(2) MCO CR REIT is subject to risks inherent in commercial real estate business

A. General. Investments in MCO CR REIT are subject to the risks generally incident to the ownership and operation of real estate, including risks associated with changes in general economic or local market conditions, competition for tenants, changes in market rental rates, inability to collect rents and other payments from tenants due to bankruptcy, insolvency or other financial difficulties of tenants or otherwise and the need to periodically renovate, repair and relet space and to pay the costs thereof. In addition, real estate investments are relatively illiquid which may tend to limit the ability of MCO CR REIT to react promptly in response to changes in economic or other conditions.

B. Tenant defaults. Most of MCO CR REIT's income is expected to be derived from rental income from the Property, and consequently, MCO CR REIT's distributable cash flow and ability to pay expected dividends to shareholders would be adversely affected if a significant number of tenants of the Property failed to meet their lease obligations. At any time, a tenant of MCO CR REIT could seek the protection of the bankruptcy laws, which could result in delays in rental payments or in the rejection and termination of such tenant's lease. No assurance can be given that tenants will not file for bankruptcy protection in the future or, if any tenants file, that they will affirm their leases and continue to make rental payments in a timely manner. In addition, a commercial tenant from time to time may experience a downturn in its business which may weaken its financial condition and result in the failure to make rental payments when due.

C. Lease terminations. MCO CR REIT is subject to the normal risks associated with leasing property, including the risk that upon expiration of leases for space located in its building, the leases may not be renewed, the space may not be relet or the terms of renewal or leasing (including any cost of required renovations or concessions to tenants) may be less favourable than current lease terms. If MCO CR REIT is unable promptly to relet or renew leases for a significant portion of its space or if the rental rates upon renewal or reletting are significantly lower than expected rates, then MCO CR REIT's earnings and ability to make expected distributions to shareholders will be adversely affected.

D. Decrease in value of buildings. The underlying value of MCO CR REIT's building and the price at which MCO CR REIT will be able to dispose of it may be adversely affected by adverse changes in national or local economic conditions, competition from other properties, changes in interest rates and in the availability, cost and terms of mortgage financing, changes in real estate tax rates and adverse changes in governmental regulations, including environmental and zoning laws affecting the buildings, and other factors which are beyond the control of MCO CR REIT. No assurances can be made that the fair market value of MCO CR REIT's real estate assets will not decrease in the future.

(3) MCO CR REIT's alternative exit strategies may not be viable

Anticipated changes to the Act permitting transformation of a CR REIT into an ordinary REIT may not take place within the life span of MCO CR REIT, and it may not be possible for MCO CR REIT to merge with another CR REIT during this period, thus limiting MCO CR REIT's exit strategies to disposition of the asset through market sale only.

(4) MCO CR REIT's insurance will not cover all losses

MCO CR REIT maintains comprehensive insurance on its building, including liability and fire and extended coverage, in amounts sufficient to permit the replacement of the improvements thereon in the event of a total loss, subject to applicable deductibles. MCO CR REIT will endeavour to obtain coverage of the type and in the amount customarily obtained by owners of real estate similar in nature in the areas where such real estate is located. There are certain types of losses, however, generally of a catastrophic nature, such as earthquakes, floods and hurricanes, that may be uninsurable or not economically insurable. Inflation, changes in building codes and ordinances, environmental considerations, and other factors also might make it infeasible to use insurance proceeds to replace a property if it is damaged or destroyed. Under such circumstances, the insurance proceeds received by MCO CR REIT, if any, might not be adequate to restore MCO CR REIT's investment with respect to the affected Property.

(5) MCO CR REIT may suffer adverse impact from leverage

MCO CR REIT is subject to the risks normally associated with debt financing, including the risk that MCO CR REIT's cash flow will be insufficient to meet required payments of principal and interest and the risk that necessary capital expenditures for such purposes as renovations and reletting space cannot be financed on favourable terms, if at all. The Property will be mortgaged to secure payment of the Loan, and if MCO CR REIT defaults under the Loan, the Property could be lost through foreclosure or transfer to the mortgagee with a consequent loss of income and asset value to MCO CR REIT. Independent accountant's report indicates that in case that vacancy rate increases to 24.6%, MCO CR REIT may not be able to service the debt.

(6) Failure to maintain status as a CR-REIT could have adverse tax consequences

must continually satisfy certain tests primarily with respect to the nature of its assets. In addition, in order not to be taxed on its income, MCO CR REIT must distribute at least 90% of its distributable income to shareholders. If MCO CR REIT fails to qualify as a CR REIT in any tax year or fails to distribute at least 90% of its distributable income, it would be taxed as a regular domestic corporation. In such a case, MCO CR REIT would be subject to income tax on its taxable income at regular corporate rates, and distributions to MCO CR REIT's shareholders would not be deductible by MCO CR REIT in computing its taxable income. Any such corporate tax liability could be substantial and would reduce the amount of cash available for distribution to MCO CR REIT's shareholders, which in turn could have an adverse impact on the value of, and trading prices for, the shares.

(7) The market for MCO CR REIT shares may not be liquid

Although the shares will be listed on the Korea Exchange, there is no assurance that an active trading market will develop or be sustained following the offering of the shares or that at any time the shares may be resold at or above the initial offering price.

(8) Potential change to tax exempt status of CR REIT

Amendments to the Tax Benefit Limitation Act are currently being considered by the National Assembly. Under these amendments, for the additional acquisition of property after 1 January 2004, MCO CR REIT would be liable to pay 50% of registration tax and 50% of acquisition tax with respect to such purchases or capital expenditures.

11. Dividend Payment

(1) Distribution Policy

Pursuant to the amended Real Estate Investment Company Act effective from 23 April 2005, the requirement to reserve 10% of dividend payable as legal reserve has been eliminated from the third financial year. The Company can pay dividend in excess of its net income pursuant to article 28(3) of the Real Estate Investment Company Act, article 32 of the Enforcement Decree of Real Estate Investment Company Act and article 56(3) of the Articles of Incorporation. The Actual dividend amount will be decided by the resolution of the general meeting of shareholders pursuant to the Commercial Code.

The Company's initial estimate about dividend rate disclosed by the offering circular at underwriting was as follows.

	2004-06	2004-12	2005-06	2005-12	2006-06	2006-12	2007-06	2007-12	2008-06	2008-12

Under the current accounting policy of the company, the Company's revised dividend rate of the 6th fiscal year and the estimate of the 7th fiscal year after reflecting the amendment effects of Real Estate Investment Company Act, effective from 22 April 2005, are as follows.

	2004-06	2004-12	2005-06	2005-12	2006-06	2006-12	2007-06	2007-12	2008-06	2008-12
	FY1	FY2	FY3	FY4	FY5	FY6	FY7	FY8	FY9	FY10

Average for 5years	13.65%

The estimate of dividend rate can be varied according to the change of market environment, change of vacancy rate, and other changes including accounting principal applied. Although due care and attention has been exercised in the preparation of forecast information, the estimates, by their very nature, are subject to contingencies many of which are outside the control of MCO CR REIT.

Investors are advised to do his/her financial analysis and consider obtaining financial, legal and taxation advice before making an investment decision. Also, investor should know that investments in MCO CR REIT are neither deposits nor liabilities of the Company and its servicers.

Actual dividend amount of each fiscal year shall be finally determined by the resolution of the general meeting of shareholders, pursuant to the Commercial Code of Korea, which shall be proposed by the Board based on the actual financial performances in each fiscal year.

(2) Payment of Dividend

The Company will operate for five years from December 12, 2003 (inception). The ordinary fiscal periods of the Company are from January 1 and July 1 to June 30 and December 31, respectively. However, the first fiscal period of the Company started from December 12, 2003 (inception) and ended on June 2004. If the real estate amounting to 50% or more of total assets of the Company is sold and sale proceeds are completely collected, the fiscal year ends on the date when the sale proceeds are fully collected, after which the disposal profit from the sale will be distributed immediately.

Dividend is paid to the shareholders of the Company legally registered in the shareholders registry as at end of each accounting period, as approved by the resolution of the general meeting of shareholders.
