(b) Amendment to risk factor titled “The Macquarie Group could suffer losses due to environmental and social factors”

The risk factor titled “The Macquarie Group could suffer losses due to environmental and social factors” on page 22 of the Base Prospectus is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

“The Macquarie Group could suffer losses due to environmental and social factors

The Macquarie Group is subject to the risk of unforeseen, hostile or catastrophic events, many of which are outside of its control, including natural disasters, extreme weather events (such as persistent winter storms or protracted droughts) leaks, spills, explosions, release of toxic substances, fires, accidents on land or at sea, terrorist attacks or other hostile or catastrophic events.. Any significant environmental change or external event (including increased frequency and severity of storms, floods and other catastrophic events such as earthquake, pandemic (such as COVID – 19), other widespread health emergencies, civil unrest or terrorism events) has the potential to disrupt business activities, impact the Macquarie Group’s operations or reputation, increase credit risk and other credit exposures, damage property and otherwise affect the value of assets held in the affected locations and the Macquarie Group’s ability to recover amounts owing to it.

Our businesses could also suffer losses due to climate change. Climate change is systemic in nature and is a significant long-term driver of both financial and non-financial risks. Climate change related impacts include physical risks from changing climatic conditions and transition risks such as changes to laws and regulations, technology development and disruptions and consumer preferences. A failure to respond to the potential and expected impacts of climate change may affect the Macquarie Group’s performance and could have wide-ranging impacts for the Macquarie Group. These include, but are not limited to, impacts on the probability of default and losses arising from defaults, asset valuations and collateral. Failure to effectively manage these risks could adversely affect our business, prospects, reputation, financial performance or financial condition.

The occurrence of any such events may prevent the Macquarie Group from performing under its agreements with clients, may impair its operations or financial results, and may result in litigation, regulatory action, negative publicity or other reputational harm. The Macquarie Group may also not be able to obtain insurance to cover some of these risks and the insurance that it has may be inadequate to cover its losses.

Any such long-term, adverse social or environmental consequences could prompt the Macquarie Group to exit certain businesses altogether. In addition, such an event or environmental change (as the case may be) could have an adverse impact on economic activity, consumer and investor confidence, or the levels of volatility in financial markets.”

(c) Insertion of a new risk factor titled “The Macquarie Group is subject to global economic, market and business risks with respect to the COVID-19 pandemic”

A new risk factor titled “The Macquarie Group is subject to global economic, market and business risks with respect to the COVID-19 pandemic” as set out below is to be inserted to immediately follow the risk factor titled “The Macquarie Group could suffer losses due to environmental and social factors” as appearing on page 22 of the Base Prospectus:

“The Macquarie Group is subject to global economic, market and business risks with respect to the COVID-19 pandemic

The COVID-19 pandemic has caused, and will likely continue to cause, severe impact on global, regional and national economies and disruptions to international trade and business activity. The COVID-19 pandemic has already caused increased unemployment and the levels of equity and other financial markets to decline sharply and to become more volatile, and such effects may continue or worsen in the future. This may in turn reduce the level of activity in sectors in which certain of the Macquarie Group’s businesses operate and thus have a negative impact on such businesses’ ability to generate revenues or profits.

Governments and central banks around the world have reacted to the economic crisis caused by the pandemic by implementing stimulus and liquidity programs and cutting interest rates, however it is unclear whether these actions or any future actions taken by governments and central banks will be successful in mitigating the economic disruption. If the COVID-19 pandemic is prolonged and/or the mitigating actions of governments and central banks are unsuccessful, the negative impact on global growth and global financial markets could be amplified, and may lead to recessions in national, regional or global economies.

The Macquarie Group has implemented a range of support measures to provide short term financial assistance to customers who are facing difficulties as a consequence of COVID-19. Various individual and business customers of the Macquarie Group’s Personal and Banking businesses who are experiencing financial difficulties due to COVID-19 are able to immediately defer their loan repayments for up to six months. A range of support measures, including short term deferrals and payment plans have been, and may be, implemented by the Macquarie Group for some of its other businesses.

The impact of COVID-19 may lead to reduced client activity and demand for the Macquarie Group’s products and services, higher credit and valuation losses in Macquarie Group loan and investment portfolios, impairments of financial assets, trading losses and other negative impacts on the Macquarie Group’s financial position, including possible constraints on capital and liquidity, as well as a higher cost of capital, and possible changes or downgrades to Macquarie Group’s credit ratings. If conditions deteriorate or remain uncertain for a prolonged period, the Macquarie Group’s funding costs may increase and its ability to replace maturing liabilities may be limited, which could adversely affect the Macquarie Group’s ability to fund and grow its business.

Additionally, despite the business continuity and crisis management policies currently in place, travel restrictions or potential impacts on personnel and operations may disrupt the Macquarie Group’s business and increase operational risk losses. The expected duration and magnitude of the COVID-19 pandemic and its potential impacts on the economy and the Macquarie Group’s personnel and operations are unclear. Should the impact of COVID-19 be prolonged or increasingly widespread and severe and the actions taken to control its spread be unsuccessful, the Macquarie Group’s results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected.”
